

SOTI INSIGHT

BRING YOUR MOBILE
OPERATIONS INTO FOCUS

Mobility has boosted the operational efficiency of organizations and created new models for business. However, many organizations are not truly getting the most out of their business-critical mobility investments. Underuse, improper use, as well as downtime of mobile apps and devices can lead to unnecessary costs, lost revenue and lost productivity. SOTI's business intelligence solution makes it easy for the enterprise to gain visibility into the performance of their apps, devices and employee behaviour on the devices. Organizations can make better purchasing decisions, address inefficiencies within their mobile operations, and improve the total cost of ownership (TCO) and return on investment (ROI) of their business-critical mobility investments.

MOBILITY INSIGHTS MADE EASY

SOTI Insight is a business intelligence solution that delivers out-of-the-box analytics on app, data, network and location usage, and operations. SOTI Insight makes it easy for companies to gain insights into the performance of their mobility deployments.

What SOTI Insight can do for your business

Total visibility over business-critical mobility

SOTI Insight provides actionable insights into the major factors impacting the performance of business-critical mobility investments.

- Determine user and device behaviour that is deteriorating the health of the device battery or preventing a full charge from lasting an entire workday
- Uncover the root cause of large data consumption to reduce cellular service costs
- Gather OEM and carrier analysis to make better purchasing decisions
- Get insight into which apps on devices are being used, and for how long, in order to understand the ROI of app investments and better understand user behaviour
- App version control analysis to ensure operational mandates are being met

Out-of-the-Box App and Device Analytics

SOTI Insight provides a plug and play, highly scalable, powerful, cloud-hosted business intelligence solution to your organization.

- Automatically push the SOTI Insight agent as a package to SOTI MobiControl for easy deployment. Once installed the agent automatically enrolls the device to SOTI Insight – zero-touch required by the end user
- Integration with SOTI MobiControl allows organizations to take control of what they are seeing and proactively improve usage and productivity
- Out-of-the-box dashboards for battery health, app usage, data usage and location to provide quick analysis of device performance

Improve visibility over the performance of mobile assets

SOTI Insight helps organizations gain total visibility over their mobility solutions that improve the total cost of ownership and ROI of their business-critical mobility investments.

- Monitor devices and alert mobile device administrators when devices violate pre-defined conditions, and quickly address mobile device and app issues before they escalate
- Isolate devices of interest within specific segments and quickly identify the root cause of mobile device and app issues
- Automatically convert dashboards into shareable, interactive reports giving organizations better visibility into the performance of mobile assets and workforces
